HORROR AND DISGUST AT NEW DISH

THE MYSTERY OF ABANDONED SOULS

Two young people who wanted to explore a place they will never return to

It was a cold and dark night in Bajamar where two young people entered the famous and abandoned hotel NEPTUNO 🏠. A cold air ran that took the air out of your chest when they entered in the pool area.

When they decided to go inside, they felt the hotel, it seemed to them that they had seen a fleeting candlestick light like a star go up to the top floor completely and that's where the whole terrible and horrifying adventure began. Lucas and Santi were the two young people who entered. The more they went up the floor, the more scary everything was until they reached the second of six floors where they found a spirit who told them his whole story and how his terrible death was in that place. He told them that he had seen a candlestick in the hotel in his good times when suddenly he was involved in a terrible fire and resulted in his horrible death Santi was scared to death and i jumped out of my skin.

After that horrifying encounter when they went up they saw that light which turned out to be a legend which said that if it appeared you would run as soon as you saw it clearly because it turned out that it caused fires that managed to disappear entire buildings in ash. We ran down the stairs as fast as possible until we left that horrifying place. And that's when the building started to burn in flames. After having escaped from their possible death, they decided not to return to that place in a niche like Halloween.

Years passed until those two good friends escaped and never celebrated Halloween again until the day of their deaths they saw the same light that they saw that time and it turned out to be the soul of the people who died and burned the place where the ghost hid. Luckily they died in a place that wasn't dangerous for others.

And you who are reading this maybe you haven't thought about it but it won't be that someone died in Neptune in his good times. There will be a second part. It's a Halloween mystery.

See you next Halloween my dear readers. 🧛🍊👻
